

ROBERT L. MOORE, SES
Deputy to the Commanding General
United States Army Security Assistance Command

Mr. Robert L. Moore is Deputy to the Commanding General of the U.S. Army Security Assistance Command (USASAC).

USASAC leads the AMC Security Assistance Enterprise; develops and manages security assistance programs and Foreign Military Sales (FMS) cases to build partner capacity, supports COCOM engagement strategies, and strengthens U.S. Global partnerships. USASAC is the Premier Security Assistance Organization in the Department of Defense. USASAC advances U.S. Strategic Partnerships by providing exceptional support in security assistance and FMS.

The mission of USASAC is to implement approved U.S. Army security assistance programs, including FMS of defense articles and services to eligible foreign governments. The command manages FMS cases with 151 countries with a total value exceeding $180 billion, as well as co-production of Army material.

Today the Command is increasingly responding to support of U.S. Government emergency assistance, humanitarian relief, and Operations Other Than War, including United Nations peacekeeping operations. USASAC's motto is "USASAC – The Army's Face to the World."

Previously, Mr. Moore served as the Executive Director of USASAC. He also served as the Deputy Director of Security Cooperation and ODC Operations, J-5, Headquarters U.S. European Command, Stuttgart-Vaihingen, Germany. Prior to that, he was Deputy Director of Logistics and Security Assistance, J-4 Headquarters U.S. European Command.

Mr. Moore was selected to the Army's Senior Executive Service in July 2003. Prior to entering the executive service, he served more than 28 years in the United States Air Force, retiring in the rank of Colonel. His military career includes experience in political military affairs, security assistance, and the full spectrum of logistics management. He has served as a missile maintenance officer, branch chief of an inspector general team, squadron commander/deputy commander for maintenance in a Tactical flying unit, director of logistics for a Tactical Air Control Wing, and deputy commander and commander of a logistics group. His last military assignment was with the Embassy of the United States of America as Chief, Office of Defense Cooperation, Berlin, Germany.

He received his Bachelor's Degree (cum laude) in Biology and Chemistry (1974) and was a Distinguished Graduate, AFROTC, Alabama State University, Montgomery, Alabama; Master's Degree in Counseling, Pepperdine University, California (1979); Master's Degree in Logistics Management, Air Force Institute of Technology, Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, Ohio (1981); Squadron Officer School, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama (1979); Air Command and Staff College, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama (1989); Air War College, Maxwell Air Force Base, Alabama (1992), Senior Executive Leadership Program at the Center for Creative Leadership, Colorado Springs, Colorado (2005); Executive Program on Black Sea Security, Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts (2006); Program for Executives in Logistics and Technology, University of North Carolina (UNC) at Chapel Hill (2007); Leadership and Innovation: Operators Driving Solutions, Business Transformation Agency, UNC at Chapel Hill (2009); Joint Executive Management Course, Kenan-Flagler Business School, UNC at Chapel Hill (2010), Army Acquisition Corps Leadership Program, Arlington, Virginia (2011); Army Senior Executive Education Program: Intermediate Course, Mendoza College of Business, University of Notre Dame (2012); and Army Senior Executive Education Program: Advanced Course, Darden School of Business, University of Virginia (2016).

Mr. Moore's Civilian awards consist of the Chairman of the Joint Chief of Staff Distinguished Civilian Award, Meritorious Civilian Service Award, Joint Meritorious Civilian Service Award, Meritorious Presidential Rank Award (2016), AUSA Redstone-Huntsville Department of the Army Management/Executive Civilian of the Year Chapter (2017); AUSA Region Three, Civilian of the Year (2017) Honors: Distinguished Graduate AFROTC.
